

China has recently been named the second largest economy in the world. This means trading with this large nation has never been more important for New Zealand businesses and with the recent relaxation of its currency market, trading with China has been made easier.

At HSBC we are known for our strong and established presence in Asia. In association with The Southland Chamber of Commerce we invite you to join Cath Henry, HSBC's Head of Global Payments and Cash Management for a luncheon to learn about this changing trading environment. Cath will discuss the speed with which the Peoples Bank of China is moving to make Renminbi freely convertible and why New Zealand based businesses should be making the most of opportunities arising from trading with China.

Also speaking will be Keith Neylon, principal of Blue River Dairy.... Keith will provide a fascinating insight to his recent experiences in China and will speak on the history and future course of Blue River Dairy.

Tuesday March 1st. 12.00pm arrival for a 12.30pm start.

A complimentary light lunch will be served. The White Heron, 375 Tweed St Invercargill.
